NEW FACE ON THE EDITORIAL BOARD

Dr Jayant V Iyer is currently an ophthalmologist-in-training. Having had to endure numerous exams in the path to traineeship and still having many more exams to go, Jayant has a keen interest in issues pertaining to that junior doctor trudging along the long tunnel trying to make out the light at the end of it (there is light at the end of the tunnel, right? ...right?). He also has a keen interest in covering issues related to travel and medical missionwork and is glad to be at your service!
