

THE FASHION CONNECTION @ RAOUL

Organised on the heels of the Cakes and Ale mixer early this year, the Raoul Paragon boutique formed the polished venue for The Fashion Connection @ Raoul, a networking session between doctors and lawyers. Jointly organised by the Singapore Medical Association and the Young Lawyers Committee of the Law Society of Singapore, the much-anticipated event was held on 13 October 2010.

The mood was casual and inviting, and small groups mingled as waiters plied champagne and canapés, much to the delight of guests present. The highlight of the evening commenced as celebrity stylist, Furqan Saini, generously dished out style tips. Introducing the Raoul Fall/Winter 2010 collection, he enthusiastically recommended various sophisticated pieces and doled out fashion advice.

This homegrown label is one we should be immensely proud of – Raoul Men featured a dapper, moody palette, layering fabrics that emphasise a structured silhouette. Raoul Women, on the other hand, tended more towards romantic with the use of ruffles and flowy textures for an ethereal feel, accentuated by unexpected pops of colour.

While the earlier Cakes and Ale was a heady crush of boisterous fun, this month's The Fashion Connection @ Raoul was undoubtedly more of a luxe set. Special thanks go out to F J Benjamin as well as the Law Society of Singapore, and we look forward to more future collaborations in bringing people and pleasure together.

Ms Smitha Menon and Furqan Saini

(L-R): Dr Winston Ho, Dr Yeo Siang Khin, Dr Chong Yeh Woei, Dr Bertha Woon and Dr Wong Tien Hua